Why Open Channels FM

Open Channels FM has been part of the open source conversation since 2018 — and our founder, Bob Dunn, has been an advocate since 2007. Over that time we have brought more than 600 voices to the mic: developers, makers, agencies, contributors, and businesses who are building on and believing in the open web.

The Open Source Champions program is a way for businesses who share those values to stand alongside us — helping us to continue those conversations, amplify open source voices, and advocate for the open source community worldwide.

What Champions Get

Open Source Champions Page

- Your brand on the Champions page

Logo, company name, and a link to your site — listed alongside fellow Champions.

- "Why we believe in open source"

A quote from you, accessible via a text link on the Champions page — your voice in your own words.

Monthly Episode

Each month we produce a dedicated Open Source Champions episode, pulling in audio quotes from our Champions. Your voice — and your belief in open source — on the mic.

Recognition & Community

- Monthly social shoutouts

Every month we call you out by name on X and LinkedIn as an Open Channels FM Open Source Champion — consistent, year-round exposure to our community.

- Year-round visibility

Your logo and name on our Champions page all year. Every visitor to that page sees who is standing up for open source — and your name is on that list.

- Support the conversation

Your contribution directly helps us keep producing open source-focused content and bringing more voices to the mic, month after month.
